San Diego Arab Film Festival

2023 San Diego Arab Film Festival Advertising Opportunity

In 2012, KARAMA, a San Diego non-profit, decided that the time had come for the San Diego Arab community to celebrate its culture in a way that would both give the community an opportunity to take pride in itself and at the same time show the San Diego community at large the richness and creativity of Arab culture.

KARAMA concluded that an ideal way to achieve these goals was to present an Arab film festival. The idea was to use the medium of film to provide realistic perspectives on Arab people, culture, art and politics and, in so doing, to enhance public understanding of Arabs and challenge the stereotypical images that dominate public discourse.

And so the San Diego Arab Film Festival was born. Now in our twelfth year, we are well on our way to making the San Diego Arab Film Festival into a major cultural event in our community. This year, for the eighth straight year, the San Diego Arab Film Festival is receiving support from the City of San Diego Commission on Arts and Culture.

In 2023 the Festival will have 8 screenings in person that will present 16 films from 10 countries. We expect total attendance to exceed 1000. At each screening, attendees will receive a multi-page program that will include advertisements.

The program pages will be full color, 5.5 inches wide by 8.5 inches high. Advertisements are available at quarter-page, half-page and full-page sizes.
